there are rumors that the Kimbo Slice camp has issued a challenge. "If they want to call me, give me a holler,plain football jersey, we'll sit down and the bottom line is you put some numbers together we'll do it," said Jeff Warner, Edwards 'trainer,new york yankee hats,make a hockey jersey, who also said that his boxer fought at about 75 percent of his potential and will be getting back to work on Monday. By Doug Farrar 8.
Super Bowl XXXVI - Ty Law(notes), DB, New England PatriotsYahoo! Sports' Jason Cole deemed Law's interception of a Kurt Warner(notes) pass to be the most important pass theft in Super Bowl history, and it's hard to argue the point (though I'd give the nod to Tracy Porter(notes) of the Saints). However, that wasn't all Law did. He also led the Patriots in tackles with seven,authentic hockey jerseys, and led the brilliant Bill Belichick defensive game plan that had the Patriots' defenders smacking St. Louis' Greatest Show on Turf in the mouth over and over. Tom Brady(notes) got the first of his two MVP awards for the drive that led to Adam Vinatieri's(notes) game-winning field goal, but Brady wouldn't have been in that position without the efforts of Law and that defense. And when you're the best player on a defense that defines the game, the MVP award should be yours. 3. Super Bowl XI - Clarence Davis, HB, Oakland RaidersWhen a team blows out a Super Bowl as the Oakland Raiders did with their 32-14 win over the Minnesota Vikings in XI, there will be an embarrassment of riches when it comes to deciding who gets the MVP award. But Fred Biletnikoff? The veteran receiver didn't even score a touchdown in the game, and though his four receptions for 79 yards - including a 48-yarder - certainly helped the team, how does anyone overlook Davis and his 137 rushing yards on only 16 carries? Was he penalized because Pete Banaszak scored touchdowns of one and two yards that probably should have been Davis'? Quite. In any case, the most impressive Raiders Super Bowl rushing performance not authored by Marcus Allen has never received the credit it was due. By Doug Farrar Inevitably,design your own basketball jersey, in 44 Super Bowls,baseball jerseys for sale, there are going to be erroneous selections. Here are the names of 10 players who could (and often should) have taken that MVP award home. Minnesota Vikings defensive end Ray Edwards(notes) is one of several NFL players at least toying with the idea of boxing during the lockout, but Edwards appears to be a bit more serious about it than some. Not only did he win his first professional fight on Friday ?a a unanimous decision over T.J. Gibson at the Grand Casino in Hinckley, Minn. ?a Edwards also received real praise from some people who would know.
Gibson, a former kickboxer from Duluth, Minn., said that Edwards is "going to be a great fighter if he keeps it up.". 10. Super Bowl XXXIX - Rodn wholesale nfl jerseys ey Harrison(notes), DB, New England PatriotsIt was all well and good for Deion Branch(notes) to get the MVP for his 11-catch, 133-yard performance against the Philadelphia Eagles, but the man who has never put together a 1,reversible basketball practice jerseys,000-yard season in his career was more the inevitable recipient of Tom Brady's cannon shots than a specifically dominant presence. After all, this was the pre-Randy Moss(notes) Pats, and the team years before Belichick drafted two tight ends for Brady to target in the seams. Branch had been Brady's primary target against the Panthers in the previous Super Bowl as well - the quarterback simply had fewer options. A more deserving recipient of the award would have been Harrison,hockey jersey builder, who picked Philadelphia's Donovan McNabb(notes) twice, had two passes defensed, a sack, and seven solo tackles. As with all of New England's Super Bowl wins,canadian hockey jerseys, three points was the difference,game worn nhl jerseys, and I find it somewhat amazing that no defensive player was ever singled out in any of those wins. 4. Super Bowl XV - Rod Martin,cheap nba swingman jerseys, LB,custom mlb jersey, Oakland RaidersFour defensive players have won the MVP based on their interceptions - Chuck Howley, Jake Scott(notes), Larry Brown and Dexter Jackson (we'll get to him later). So why did Martin get shut out of this group? All he did was pick off Ron Jaworski three times - a Super Bowl record that still stands - in Oakland's 27-10 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles. No doubt MVP Jim Plunkett was a great story, but how can you overlook a guy who killed three enemy drives when the overwhelming trend is to reward such thievery? 5. Super Bowl XXV - Thurman Thomas,basketball reversible jerseys, RB, Buffalo BillsSince Chuck Howley already took care of the weird precedent of a losing player winning MVP, let's go ahead and slap another one on a member of the losing side. New York Giants running back Ottis Anderson won the MVP in the game that featured Scott Norwood's "wide right" kick in a 20-19 squeaker,nike nfl football uniforms, but Thomas outgained Anderson on the ground (135 rushing yards to 102), and most certainly through the air (55 yards to 7). Little doubt that Thomas would have been the game's MVP had Norwood made the kick - he was simply the best player in the game. So why deny him that small nod just because one guy couldn't make a field goal? Edwards wasn't all that impressive from a technical perspective from all accounts, nba jersey dresses, but his strength and height advantage served him well? a at 6-foot-5, he towered over the 5-foot-9 Gibson. Edwards recorded two knockdowns in a fight attended by several Vikings teammates, old school basketball jerseys, including defensive tackle Pat Williams (notes), linebacker E.J. Henderson (notes), cheap mlb jersey, cornerback Antoine Winfield (notes), football jersey, and quarterback Tarvaris Jackson (notes). Edwards is a free agent under the NFL's most recent rules, hockey jersey database, and has said that he has no intention of returning to the team that selected him in the fourth round of the 2006 draft. That would be bad news for a Vikings team that is watching the rest of its formerly dominant front four (including Williams) start to jump the shark. 6. Super Bowl XXVIII - James Washington, DB, shop nhl jerseys, Dallas Cowboys Emmitt Smith won the MVP in Dallas' second-straight Super Bowl win over the Bills, wholesale nfl jersey, but as impressive as Smith's game was (30 carries for 132 yards and two touchdowns) the lesser-known Washington had one of the best Super Bowls a defensive player has ever enjoyed. What did he do? Oh, nfl home jersey, not much - he just recorded 11 solo tackles, intercepted a Jim Kelly pass, football jersey display case, and got the fumble trifecta - forced fumble, cheap nba jersey, fumble recovery, recovery return for a touchdown. And Washington's touchdown tied the game - the Cowboys hadn't seen the end zone before that score, and they never trailed after it. 2. Super Bowl VII - Manny Fernandez, DT, Miami Dolphins It was easy to name Larry Csonka the MVP of Super Bowl VIII - after all, his 145 rushing yards on 33 carries and two touchdowns smashed Snell's numbers of a few years before. But Csonka was helped by one of the best offensive line performances in Super Bowl history, while Miami's "No-Name Defense" cheap nhl jerseys ot; featured one man who proved to be unstoppable. Racking up eight solo tackles in the 24-7 game - an amazing number for a defensive tackle - Fernandez displayed astonishing lateral speed and an almost superhuman ability to shed blocks. You'll often hear Fernandez's name mentioned when overlooked Super Bowl performers are mentioned, and this No-Name's legacy deserves better. 9. Super Bowl XXXVII - Dwight Smith (notes), custom baseball jersey builder, CB, old nhl jerseys, Tampa Bay Buccaneers Remember Super Bowl XII, and the Co-MVP awards given to Harvey Martin and Randy White of the Dallas Cowboys? It's likely that Dwight Smith does. Though FS Dexter Jackson picked off two Rich Gannon passes in Tampa Bay's 48-21 smashup of the Raiders, Smith picked off two of his own - and both of them for touchdowns. Though one of those scored was the last of the game, Smith's first TD was answered by three straight Oakland touchdowns. Therefore, the "Meaningless Play" argument doesn't really hold water. Would it have been too much to share the wealth? 7. Super Bowl XXXI - Reggie White, DE, Green Bay Packers Perhaps the most egregious omission in Super Bowl MVP history, Michigan basketball jersey, White absolutely dominated the Patriots' offense when the Packers beat New England, 35-21. Desmond Howard won the award for the 99-yard kick return touchdown that put the Packers' last points on the board, but it was what White did after that kick that sealed the fate of Bill Parcells' team. On New England's next drive, White sacked Drew Bledsoe twice, nfl jersey sizes, and the quarterback never recovered. White picked up his third sack of the game - a Super Bowl record since tied by Arizona's Darnell Dockett (notes) - on New England's final drive. Kudos to Howard for his return feats, but this award should have been White's. He had waited years in a career that saw him as perhaps the best pass rusher of all time, and he played the game with all the intensity you'd expect. "For a first outing, nba jersey, I was pretty impressed," Cortez said. "Most boxers get their start when they're teenagers, custom nfl football jerseys, not when they're in their mid 20s. They also don't typically start off against someone with the kind of experience (Gibson) had. He had a lot of ring experience, not in boxing, design your own nfl jersey, but in mixed martial arts and kickboxing. He may have thought he was going to just put him away, but that's difficult to do with someone with ring experience ... In many ways he reminds me of the [Wladimir and Vitali] Kilitschko brothers. He is a big man who is very muscular. He has the ability to impose his will on people." Sounds like something Edwards enjoys, and there's nobody to tell him not to do it during the lockout. If boxing was good enough as an offseason activity for former defensive linemen Lyle Alzado and Ed "Too Tall" Jones, why not Edwards as well? Referee: Edwards has a bright future in boxing In the Super Bowl, the Most Valuable Player isn't always the guy who makes the biggest difference in the game. If there's a question, nhl vintage jerseys, the default setting is "give it to the quarterback", and once in a while, lsu baseball jersey, an oddball selection will happen. In Super Bowl V, a guy from the losing team even won the award, customized nba jerseys, as Dallas Cowboys linebacker Chuck Howley was deemed to be more valuable than any member of the victorious Baltimore Colts squad. Sun May 22 03:16pm EDT 1. Super Bowl III -- Matt Snell, discount mlb jerseys, RB, New York Jets One has to wonder if the selection of Jets quarterback Joe Namath as the first AFL Super Bowl MVP was simply the result of a band of NFL writers too stunned by what they had just seen to think of any other names. Because when you do the math, any MVP vote not for Snell doesn't make sense. The Jets didn't throw the ball once in the fourth quarter of their 16-7 win, youth football jerseys, Snell rushed for 121 yards on 30 carries against the formerly dominant Baltimore defense, and he scored the game's only meaningful touchdown. Far from a one-game wonder, Snell was a three-time AFL All-Star, the 1964 AFL Rookie of the Year, and he starred in the first Miller Lite commercial featuring football players. What more do you want? And according to Viking Update, fight referee Joe Cortez ?a cheap jerseys a man who has officiated some of the biggest fights in recent memory ?a says that Edwards should keep it up and has a bright future in boxing if he wants it.
